Introduction

Hi! It's Elizabeth and Katherine, back with some more fan fiction! We saw this on our YouTube, so we're going to do this for you guys!

Chapter 1

This morning, I woke up pretty early. I feel like I had really bad luck, though.

Since today we were brewing the Roker Potion, I felt really nervous. That meant that we were one day away from the Love Potion!

So this morning, I did my usual- and then I saw my mom in the living room with a real estate agent.

"Um, honey," she started to explain, "you're going to miss school today. I have some news."

I was pretty freaked out by this. We lived right by my crush, Logan! We couldn't move farther away from him!

I thought we weren't going to move out of the country. But boy, I was wrong!

Chapter 2

After my mom shared her news, my heart dropped. "What?" I stammered. "But... my friends! You can't do this!"

I started to cry.

We were going to move to North Carolina.

Chapter 3

Honey, everything is cheaper there," my mom assured me. "Be happy!"

"How can I be happy when you just took my whole future away?"

"Listen. Tomorrow after school, our moving truck is coming. We're going to use to money from our house to pay for our new one, with leftover money for shopping!"

Still, no matter how hard she tried, she couldn't get me to smile.

Chapter 4

The next morning, after school, the moving truck was just driving away.

"Honey, get packing. I already started for you," my mom said. She smiled at me. I frowned back.

Chapter 5

My mom basically tried to keep me happy the whole ride. I just texted my friends on my phone. I was gonna miss them so much.

Chapter 6

Suddenly, a car drove right in front of us. I looked up from my phone, and we crashed into the car. Everything went black after that.

Chapter 7

HOPE YOU ENJOYED!
