

Who?

from Fellow Earthling

online:

<https://www.allthetests.com/fan-fiction/love/quiz36/1561880278/>

powered by www.allthetests.com

Introduction

I have two crushes. They have both showed signs of liking me but I don't know who I like more?

Chapter 1

Hi! Today I will tell you about the two people I am crushing on. I really hope you can help me out!

Chapter 2

Crush one (his name is V)

So, me and V are pretty close friends but since January, I have started a crush on him. He is really nice to me (nicer than he is towards other girls.) But I feel that if I tell him that I like him, our friendship will be ruined if he doesn't feel the same way. We both love reading and being in the school orchestra. We sit next to each other in maths (assigned places) and he let me copy his answers if I don't get what we are doing. I know that he has a crush on two people and one of them is my friend. I'm starting to wonder if his other crush is me. When V was giving out Haribo's to his friends, he came to me first and handed me the only heart in the pack. Since this is the last year of primary school, I will never get to see him again. ?

Chapter 3

Crush two (his name is J)

Me and J have been like sorta friends since last year. He broke up with his girlfriend right after he met me properly. I have had a crush on him since September. He sits opposite me in maths (assigned places, again) and like V, he also let's me copy. Again, he is really nice to me. He is like the best at football (also known as soccer if you are American) and I can see him playing it professionally in the future. J and I both love football (Soccer) and winning choir competitions with the rest of the school choir. If I were to tell him that I like him, it wouldn't be as awkward as it would be with V. Even though it is the last year of primary school, we ARE going to the same high school! ?

Chapter 4

Now, I have told you about both of these boys. I like them both the same amount. If you read this, please leave a comment saying your opinion. It will really help me. Thank you for reading this!