Introduction

So, the title tells you that it's about this ballet shoe. This shoe isn't ordinary--it does miracles to a ballerina.

Chapter 1

Ring! The school bell rang signaling the start of freedom and the end of misery. Carson binned up her hair, had a quick lunch and dashed to her ballet school-- Royal Academy of Dance. Carson was 15, was passionate in ballet, had great figure, great character. Only some looked up to her but most were jealous of Carson and loved to see her in hot soup or get Carson embarrassed especially during Ballet. They wanted all the boys to break up with Carson in both school and Ballet. Carson did not really care what was happening behind her back, she just wanted to pursue her passion in Ballet and fit in in school but the people who were jealous just would not let Carson have her way. Carson had light brown hair that curled a little at the ends and she had elegance in everything she did.

Chapter 2

" Dancers, today, I've brought a few pointe shoes for some of you dancers to try. We are going to start prep for the upcoming performance--Swanlake. Some would wear the pointe shoes while some would wear normal soft shoes during the performance. Wearing the pointe shoes means you play a great part but wearing the soft shoes means you are part of the dance but would be dancing in large groups. as you know, In Swanlake, Odette, Odile, the prince and ten other dancers would be wearing pointe shoes. So, today, I'll be selecting those whose pointe techniques are good to wear the pointe shoes on the performance," Mdm Cal instructed as everyone tried finding a pointe shoe of their sizes and wear it on. Carson was anxious yet excited--she never been on pointe before, she wanted to get selected but was she going to even be able to wear the shoe? If she was going to be the lead (Odette) in the performance, would her friends play a prank on her and make her fall on stage?

Chapter 3

"The performance would be held at the dance theatre and all your parents can buy the tickets today online. Ok, let's start with rises. Before going to full pointe, I need you to go through demi pointe. After this exercise, you will do e sharps reaves on pointe. Then we'll have the final challenge. I'm going to choreograph a short dance involving pointe, you will be given 10 minutes to learn it and you will perform 3 in a group and in out of 30 girls, I can select 12 and out of the 10 boys, I can only select 2. Since boys don't do pointe, I'm going to have all the boys to do warm up involving flexibility and strength at that corner of the room," Mdm Cal said as the lesson started. Carson tried her best and after what seemed like an eternity, Carson was grouped with Fadra and Calyn to dance. Carson was neutral, she just didn't like Fadra--she's the one who is a trouble maker.

Chapter 4

After learning the dance, Carson didn't feel confident. Although she known to be best in ballet, she didn't excel in pointe--she didn't have an arch in her foot, neither was her ankle strong. She struggled to even go on pointe. The inevitable time came-- it was Caron's time to dance. Carson staggered to the dance floor--she was not going to make it.

" Watch where you're going," Fadra said as she rolled her eyes nonchalantly. The classical music started. Everything seemed to be like a dream--Carson was dancing without difficulties. She leapt in the air, landed on pointe, did a pirouette on pointe perfectly. What was going on

Chapter 5

Every pointe lesson was a breeze for Carson, surprisingly. Nobody, not even the biggest trickster--Fadra could prank Carson.

On the day of the performance, Carson was the star.

And it all started from the magical pointe shoe.

Chapter 6

Carson was filled with euphoria.

Chapter 7

Her parents were proud of her.

Chapter 8

And it went that Fadra became even more jealous.

Chapter 9

Whenever Fadra was jealous, the magical pointe shoe causes Fadra to get into trouble.

Chapter 10

What a magical pointe ballet shoe Carson has!
