

Nothing

from TheQuizzyAddict

online:

<https://www.allthetests.com/fan-fiction/other-fan-fictions/quiz37>

powered by www.allthetests.com

Introduction

This is another little speech (it takes me ages to write poems so that's why I write speeches instead?) about my depression which is just getting worse and worse every day. My friends never let me express my feelings and when I do I don't feel comfortable so this is why I make so many of these depressing speeches and poems.

And as always be bold, be beautiful and no hate comments please!

Chapter 1

Nothing. Just nothing. Nothing is the matter. Nothing is wrong. I'm fine. It's just nothing. The message I deleted was nothing. Nothing that you care about. No don't worry. It was just nothing.

But you don't understand. They're all lies. Everything I said. Lies, lies, lies. Because nothing is everything. Everything is the matter. Everything is wrong. I'm not fine. It's just everything in life. The message I deleted was everything. Everything that you should care about. No, you must worry. It was everything.