

Starting all over again

from Mary Grace

online:

<https://www.allthetests.com/fan-fiction/love/quiz38/1589915023/>

powered by www.allthetests.com

Introduction

Marlow hates moving around. She can't keep a boy for longer than three weeks. She always leaves her best friends when they are at the best. Can she play better this time around?

Chapter 1

My morning always starts off like this;

"MARLOW!"

.....I mumble "I am getting up... ugh" I grab my clothes and my Vans. I take a quick shower and hop downstairs. My bratty little sister, Selina, smirks at me. I flick my tongue at her. I grab a bagel and some coffee. My dad comes down, fixing his tie and tells me to get in the car. I snatch a breath mint from the bowl, and unplug my iPhone. I packed my backpack last night so it is ready to go.

At Living Stone High, I am wandering around with my list of classes for the day. Yay me. As I turn the corner, I run smack into a pretty, tall bronze colored girl. She loses her textbook and two notebooks. I apologize profusely, all the while helping her gather her books. She smiles at me, "Hi! I'm Audrianna! You are?" I blink and hear myself say "Oh, sorry, my name is Marlow Cunsley." She smiles again and asks if I'm lost. I say yes and she volunteers to help me out. I smile at her and we walk towards the math wing. Audrianna introduces me to the teacher, Mrs. Klinker. She is very helpful and nice. She seats me beside this gorgeous boy. I look away and remind myself to not be dumb. He, however, smiles widely at me, and says "Hello! I am Aidan! You must be Marlow." I blush and say "Yep that's me." He smiles, dimpling again! SOO cute! "This class is a breeze. You look really smart so you won't have any issues."

45 minutes later, the bell rings. Aidan turns to me and says, "So Marlow! What class do you have next?" I dig into my backpack for the list and say "Umm, English with Mr. Hutchinson." He nods and asks if he can walk me. I accept, much to happily. Meanwhile at the door to the classroom, he slips me a note and whispers "I'm here if you need anything, Marlow." He winks at me and walks down the hall. I nearly melt into a puddle right there!

Chapter 2

After I get home, I flop on my bed and text Audrianna, telling her what happened. She flips out and says "You are to much Marlow! I totally ship you two!" "Riiiiii!" I text. "Just sayin!" She texts back.

Over the next two months of homework, Audrianna, shopping, dealing with bratty Selina, and texting Aidan every once in a while, I had finally come to a conclusion that Audrianna was right; I was falling for Aidan. Fast and hard. I got my drivers license and a job at the local Fro-Yo. I was happily in love. Audrianna hit me up all the time for rides to her boyfriends house in the other town over. I compiled most times, because I just wanted to talk. When my junior year began, so did the football season. A new girl came to town. We introduced ourselves and she seemed very relived to make some friends. Her name was Alexa Morris. She was very optimistic and sweet. We loved going to the games every Friday night and usually slept over at Alexa's after. But one night, luck wasn't on our side...

We got to the game a little late, but we found a seat with some classmates, Kathy, Jordan, & Maria. We laughed and talked until half-time and then we got up to walk around. We were all close. We walked by Aidan and his friends and like usual, he called to me and we flirted for a while. When the game board sounded, we hugged and walked back towards the bleachers. I grabbed a snack and a Coke. Later into the fourth quarter, I got up with Alexa to use the bathroom. The girls bathroom was around the stadium. We walked the quickest way there. After we had relieved ourselves, we decided to walk the long way back.

Well, that was a terrible mistake because we rounded a corner slowly and not a couple yards away, Aidan and two of his friends were talking to a blond girl named Shelby. She was wearing a very tight miniskirt and sheer crop-top sweater. Alexa took out her phone and started recording. I was covering my mouth. Suddenly, Aidan was shoved from behind right into Shelby's body. She flipped him around and pinned him to the wall and began making out with him right there. The two guys began chanting. I was crying and Alexa steered me back towards the bleachers. We walked all the way to Audrianna and Alexa said "We have to go!" Audrianna yelled back her, "Why!" Alexa gestured to me and Audrianna's eyes widened. "Okay let me get my stuff!" We walked out to the car and I got in, still blurry-eyed and mournful. I wiped my eyes and face. Alexa began to tell Ri what happened. She showed her the video too.

Chapter 3

Audrianna's mouth went slack and she began to cuss him out. I said that it didn't matter. I dropped them off at Alexa's and told them that I'd call them tomorrow after work. They said ok, and hugged me tight, telling me that they were always here for me. I went home and took a long hot bath. I finally dressed and freshened up. I didn't want to sleep in my room so I decided to go and see if Selina was awake. Sure enough, she was in her room watching Mako Mermaids. She paused it and looked at me. "Why are you home? Aren't you supposed to be at Alexa's?" I stood there willing the tears to stay put but they came pouring out "I..saw my..crush ma-making out wi...with my frenemy" I sobbed. Selina said that she couldn't fix it and I told her I knew that. Then a big clap of thunder shook the house. Selina dove under the covers. I asked her if I could sleep with her tonight. She quivered and agreed. We settled in and a couple minutes later we heard more thunder and rain. We plugged in the nightlight and turned on some soft music. I haven't slept like that since I was ten.

The next day, I went to work and came home at four. I called Alexa and Audrianna. We talked for a while and then came to a conclusion. We would confront him on Tuesday.

Sunday evening, my parents went out and Selina had gone to bed early, because she and I had watched 'The Turning' after lunch. I was so sad and finally I walked downstairs and found some kitchen knives. I took one upstairs to the bathroom and stood in the tub. I brought the knife to my wrist and pulled it across my wrist. I did to the other wrist until I was satisfied with the pain I felt. I washed the knife very thoroughly and put it back. I wrapped up my cuts with a loose bandage. I heard my phone ding. I hadn't checked it all day. Aidan was texting me. I didn't even read them. I deleted his contact and blocked him. I fell asleep sobbing.

The next morning, I drove myself to school. Alexa had one of her grandparents in the hospital that day and Audrianna had a dentist's appointment. I walked into school with my head down. I was on the stairs when Aidan called to me. "Marlow, wait!" I quickened my pace but he caught up to me. "Marlow, what's wrong? Why are you avoiding me?" I turned to him with teary eyes and said, "Why do you care about me? Go to your girlfriend." He looked hurt and asked, "What girlfriend? I'm not dating anyone." I smirked and said "Yeah right." I spun around to walk away but he caught my wrist pulling my sleeve back. I had taken off the bandages this morning. They were angry and red. Aidan gasped, "Why did you do this!" I lifted my chin and said, "Because I saw you making out with Shelby on Friday. Now go away." He inhaled and said "I don't like her. My friends pushed me into her and she trapped me." I bit my lip. Then he said, "The only person I like is you Marlow." He pulled me into him and kissed me so gently. I smiled and kissed him back. Then he pinned me up against the wall and kissed me very passionately. I wrapped my arms around his neck and he slid one hand up my shirt. I kissed him back and we hugged for what felt like forever.

I got my lover and my friends told him not to do anything like that again. Life was healed and patched

A blond girl smirked in the shadows of a closet and planned her revenge. "Soon.." She rasped....

Breaking All Over Again

from Mary Grace

online:

<https://www.allthetests.com/fan-fiction/love/quiz38/1590595090/>

powered by www.allthetests.com

Introduction

Marlow and Aidan run into trouble, while taking a end-of-school trip. A blond girl wants to ruin their relationship, and will stop at nothing. But neither will Marlow & Aidan!

Let me know if you guys like this one! Be sure to like and comment! #AllOverAgain

Chapter 1

Marlow threw her bag into her car and reached up and pulled her trunk door shut. It was barely dawn, but she and many other juniors were taking a eight-hour trip to Colorado. She was on her way to pick up Alexa. After that, they stopped for coffee and went along their way to the school. Six tour buses gleamed under the streetlights. Sleepy eyed teens were getting out of cars and lugging their bags to a checkpoint. They were marked down and told to get into a bus that had room for both them and their luggage. Marlow met up with Aidan. They hugged tightly and Aidan whispered in her ear, "I could barely sleep, I was too excited to see you again!" Marlow kissed him on his cheek and they went to find Alexa and Audrianna. They boarded the third bus and Aidan and Marlow took a double seat and Audrianna and Alexa took one across from them. Ten minutes later, they were on the highway. Most teens were on their phones or sleeping. Marlow leaned against Aidan's shoulder. He wrapped his arm around her and kissed her head. Then the world closed up into subtle colors.

When Marlow opened her eyes, she was still laying on Aidan. The bus was slowing down in front of a fancy hotel. Everyone was waking up and stretching. They got their luggage and grabbed their assigned rooms. Alexa and Audrianna got a room together. Aidan and Marlow didn't but they got rooms with an adjoining door. It was 1:45 in the afternoon, so the four of them decided to go find a cafe'. They went and ate a late lunch and returned to the hotel and went swimming with some other friends.

Later, after a very filling dinner, Aidan & Marlow walked up to their rooms, kissed goodnight, and entered their rooms. After she took a shower, she noticed a piece of paper on the little table.

Chapter 2

Marlow picked it up and read it. Someone had broke into her room!

The paper read;

Hello Marlow,

If you would like to remain alive tomorrow, you will take the Presidential Hike at 2, with your hot boyfriend. If you don't we will be forced to take you captive and kill you. If you snitch, we WILL take matters into our own hands.

Signed, Double S

Marlow swallowed hard. She walked over to the door and knocked. Aidan opened it. He raised his eyebrows. Marlow handed him the piece of paper. Aidan cleared his throat and said, "Well, it seems as though we don't have a choice, huh?" Marlow shook her head and a little tear dripped down her cheek. Aidan took notice and slid a hand on her cheek and wiped it away with his thumb. He kissed and slowly and softly. Aidan whispered "I will protect you if anything bad happens. I promise." He balled up the letter and tossed it on the floor. He picked her up and hugged her. Marlow grabbed his temples and pushed her lips into his.

The next morning, Marlow woke up and dressed in athletic wear. She went downstairs and confirmed the hike. Aidan came down and gave a good morning hug. They had breakfast, and explained in hushed tones what was going on to Alexa, Audrianna, and Kathy. "The hike is only supposed to last an hour and a half" Marlow explained. "And we will bring GPS trackers," Aidan reassured them. Kathy agreed and told them they would set up camp in Audrianna's room. They left and Aidan squeezed Marlow's hand. "It will okay, we are going to be prepared."

At 1:30, they left and walked to the confirmed place. Then the ground fell out from what they were standing on.

Chapter 3

They landed in a well. They climbed out and stepped into tar. Then two big guys in kaboki masks pulled them out and brought them to Shelby. She said, "The only way to get out of here, is for Aidan to denounce you Marlow and become my boyfriend." "No way! Have you lost your mind?" Aidan cut in. "Oh well. Get her." Shelby ordered. The two guys picked up Marlow. She thrashed and kicked and yelled. They threw her into a pit littered with bones. "End her." Shelby shouted. "No! Please don't!" Aidan pleaded. "Nathaniel! Get her!" Shelby ordered. Another masked guy jumped into the pit. Marlow grabbed a skull and threw it at him. It knocked him over. She looked up and saw the two other guys holding Aidan down and making him watch. Shelby was sitting there with a satisfied grin. The guy stood up and drew his long knife. I whimpered and backed away. He tackled me and lay on me. My fingers closed on leg bone and stabbed him in the ribs. He fell off, and I sat on top of him. He took off his mask and said, "Marlow please don't." I quivered, "Nate?" "I'm here." He said. "Why are you trying to kill me?" "Because I loved you once and wanted you so badly. And now I have you." he pulled me down and rolled me over. He pushed his mouth into mine. I tried to resist, but he was too strong. I heard Aidan screaming and Shelby ordering to take him away. He cuffed me and kept on kissing. He pulled his shirt off but, I used my knee to hold it down. Then someone shook me.

We were in front of a nice hotel. Aidan smiled down at me, and kissed me on the forehead. I said, "Where is the well?" He shook his head and laughed, "You had a crazy dream, I could hear you talking in your sleep!" I sighed and kissed him back and said "No hikes on this trip!" "As the princess wishes!" Aidan winked.