Introduction

Another poem.

Chapter 1

All these lies leading up to every suspicion
Every day another one leading to some destruction
And I hate every lie
And every fear-founded suspicion

I don't know why we are like this
I wish it was like it was before
I know we can't go back to the past
But every one is changing too fast

I don't even know why I'm still here
Why do I keep on coming
When all I see now
Isn't what it used to be

Every suspicion leading up to these lies
Every time someone buys into something
True or otherwise
"It's a lie! It's a trap! It's dangerous!"

Warnings ring out
Why am I still here?
When every day is another lie
Every day is another suspicion

Suspicions are not proof
There is no proof
I don't know why I'm still here
After every lie and every suspicion

After all this
Why am I still here?
Why are we still doing this?
When nothing good has ever come

Nothing good will ever come out

There's no lie detection here
Suspicious and lies and fights

This used to be so much better
Why are we still here?
So much better we could do
Why are we still here?

Why do we still argue?
After every fight
One more day or night
Will bring it up again and again

So why am I still here?
After every fight
Why are we still doing this?
It never amounts to anything
