Introduction

This poem might not completely make sense to you but you can interpret it any way you want!

Chapter 1

Petals dropping to the ground
Doesn't makes a single sound
Grass will sway from side to side
Trees will fight to survive

Time will haunt all your dreams
Everyone will be in separate teams
You're either here or you're there
Or you may be full of despair

The world will not stop for you
The sky will not always be blue
You will regret coming here
The world is waiting for you, my dear
