Prologue

A ginger tom was watching a young she-cat put the patrols together. She really was beautiful. "Hey Gingerstar," said the silver she-cat. "Yes?" Gingerstar said. "I need you to go out hunting," she said. "Yes Sleekstream," he said. Leading the patrol to the river. He saw Sleekstream with a handsome ginger WindClan tom. The other RiverClan cats weren't looking. They were laying together and looked as if they had been doing it for a while. She may be a traitor but that doesn't mean she has no reason.

Chapter 1

Sleekstream padded back to camp and saw Gingerstar coming down to her. "Can we talk alone in my den?" he asked her. "Sure," she said. She followed him inside and sat down. "I really like you," Gingerstar said. "I like you too," she said well it was half the truth. "That's why I am asking you to be my mate. Will you be my mate?" he asked. Sleekstream was taken aback. "What about Lionheart? I love him too. I will say yes," "Yes I will," she said.

Sleekstream was walking over to the place where she would meet Lionheart with special news. "Sleekstream?" she heard him call. "Here," she purred. "Hey," he said. "I have something to tell you," she said. "I do too but you go first," he said. "I am expecting your kits!" she said. The look on his face said something like "Oh uhhh hmmm?". "I will raise them to think Gingerstar is their father," she said. "Lionheart nodded. "Well ummmm uhh, Skyheart is expecting my kits so I gu-" she didn't want to hear the rest she ran back to camp and into Gingerstar's den "What's wrong?" he asked. She explained everything. "You can exile me. I would if I were you," she finished. "I won't exile you," he said. "Okay I'll g- wait what? I am staying?" she said. Gingerstar's whiskers twitched in amusement. "Yes," he said. "Will you keep my secret?" she asked. "Always," he said

Sleekstream lay next to Gingerstar. Her kits were very lively right now. Much more than the other day. It had been three moons since Lionheart. Today may be the day her kits were born. Then she felt a huge pain in her belly and let out a cry of pain. "Are you okay?" asked Gingerstar. "I think the kits are coming," she said

She had six healthy kits at her belly with Gingerstar next to her three toms and three she-cats. "What should we name them?" asked Gingerstar. "This one is Reedkit," she said pointing to the ginger she-cat with green eyes. "Wait they all have green eyes!" she said. "They never were Lionheart's were they?" he asked quietly. "I think they really are your's." she replied. They named the rest of their kits: Troutkit, Finkit, Fadingkit, Hawkkit, and Stormkit. "They really are perfect." he said

Sleekstream's kits were only a moon old. Gingerstar walked in and all the kits jumped up onto him. "Hello kits." he said. "Hi dad." said Stormkit. "WINDCLAN ATTACK!" she heard the yowl come from the outside. Lionheart ran into the den and approached her. "Gingerstar isn't here to protect you." he snarled. "Now give over my kits." he snarled. "They are not your kits!" she yowled. "They are mine and Gingerstar's." He unsheathed his claws. "How do you know?" he asked. "They all have green eyes the same as me and Gingerstar while you have amber eyes." she said. "Mama what are you talking about?" asked Hawkkit. She ignored him. "Lionheart leave. Now!" Gingerstar said. "You will have to make me!" he snarled, launching onto Gingerstar. He pushed Lionheart off but Lionheart got a blow to the neck. She launched at Lionheart and killed him. She ran over to Gingerstar. "You have to live." she pleaded. "How long have you been my deputy?" he asked. "Always." she said. "Have I lost a life before?" he rasped. "Not that I know of." she said as he closed his eyes and a few moments later he opened them and looked like he was at full health again. Their kits were huddled together. "What was that Lionheart guy talking about?" asked Stormkit. Sleekstream sighed. "When I was a young deputy I saw a tom drowning so I saved him and told him to go or I would go get the leader. Then he asked why not get the deputy and I said I was the deputy. He told me to meet him there so we did that for moons until your father asked me to be his mate and a few days later I found out I was expecting kits I thought they were Lionheart's so that night when we met I told him that I was expecting his kits but then he said that a she-cat in his clan named Skyheart was expecting his kits and I ran back to camp and came into here and told everything to your father and once you were born we found out he was your real father but I hadn't told Lionheart so today the battle was about him getting you but he wasn't your father." she finished. "Whoa," said Finkit. Gingerstar watched Lionheart's. "Did I do asked." "Pretty much," she replied. "Wait where's Fadingkit?" She saw a silver body and she turned it over to see Fadingkit with a scratch on her neck. "Lionheart." Sleekstream snarled

Sleekstream sat cheering with the clan. "Hawktalon! Troutstream! Finstem! Stormeye! Robinfrost!" Jayfrost was sitting next to his sister Hollyberry. Brackenfur was next to Lightstem. Life was perfect and possibly better once she went to Yellowspots. She went to his den and sat down. "Yes Sleekstream," he said. "I think I am expecting kits," she replied. "Any sudden pain from the belly?" he asked. "Yes," she said. "Do you feel sick sometimes?" he asked. "A bit," she said. "Eat this berry and say if it's sweet or sour," he said. She picked up the berry ate the sour berry and spat it out. "Way to sour," she said. "Then yes you are," he replied simply. She went to go tell Gingerstar the news to find a ghostly figure next to him. "Help?" Gingerstar rasped. The ghost was killing him! Who was this ghost? It was a handsome ginger tom with amber eyes. "Hawktalon, Stormeye come here!" she yowled for her two strongest kits. They came running and leaped onto the ghost. I did not know they were that fast! "Nobody can defeat me!" said the ghost and it disappeared. "Gingerstar are you okay?" she asked, pressing her muzzle to his cheek. He nodded and got up. Magpiewing walked up and looked over to them. "So do I want to know what happened?" he asked. "Honestly we don't even know," Stormeye said. Her kits and Magpiewing walked away. "Why didn't you fight for me?" he asked. "I didn't want to risk the lives of our litter," she murmured putting her tail over her belly. "Oh," he said.

Chapter 5

Sleekstream lay around four newborn kits. Their names were Sharpkit, Dappledkit, Oakkit, and Russetkit.

Gingerstar was sitting beside her. "THUNDERCLAN ATTACK!" the yowl of Dockstar could be heard all over camp. She leaped at Yewleaf and was pinned down by him as he walked over to her kits. "You will not hurt them!" she yowled, pouncing on him. They were locked in battle and he sank his teeth into her neck and dropped her. He had given her the killing blow. She saw Gingerstar run in and threw Yarowleaf and he ran. "Sleekstream you have to live you have to take care of our kits," he pleaded. "It is my time to go?" she rasped as she joined StarClan. Fadingkit, Flinchflight, Littlebird, and Sleetpaw were all there. Her parents her daughter and her brother were all welcoming her. "Now I would like to ask if you even want to join StarClan," said Sleetpaw. "I don't," she replied. "Possibly we could bring you back," said Fadingkit. "I don't want to live again I want to watch my family," she said. "So you would like to be a ghost?" said Littlebird. She nodded. They stretched out their paws. She was back! She wasn't alive but this would do. The clan was sitting vigil for her. "She was the best mate anybody could have," said Gingerstar with their kits next to him. "I could never have had a better mother," said Stormeye sadly. Brackenfur sat there. "She was the best littermate I had," he said. "She was my only friend other than Sunpelt when we were apprentices," said Moonpelt. "She was a very nice cat and gave us fresh-kill when we were hungry," said Jayfrost. Skycloud was staring right at her. "Can you see me?" she asked. He nodded. Groundearth nodded to. She sat up and padded over. "I need you to tell Gingerstar that I am watching over him and always will," she said. When the vigil was over they went over to Gingerstar. "What is it," he asked. "We will tell you in your den," Skycloud said. They went in. Skycloud closed his eyes and concentrated hard. Gingerstar jumped backwards. "Sleekstream is that really you?" he asked. She nodded. "We'll go," said Skycloud. "I missed you so much," he said. He pressed his muzzle to her cheek. "Stormeye has something to tell you," she said. "How do you—oh she's right there," he said. Stormeye padded in and stared at her. "Well you noticed I have been spending a lot of time with Magpiewing, right?" she asked. They both nodded. "I am expecting his kits!" she said. Magpiewing was a good cat just he is half-clan. "Uh, Magpiewing is half-clan?" said Gingerstar. Stormeye looked down and padded out. "Why did you have to say that?" she asked, cuffing him around the ear. He shrugged. "WINDCLAN ATTACK!" said Peachstar. "Oh great!" said Hawktaalon. Finstem was next to Moonpelt. Dappledkit was under the paws of a handsome ginger tom. Lionheart's son! "Who is that ginger tom?" she asked Gingerstar. "Lionheart," he said. "The second." She twitched her whiskers. She leaped out of the den hoping the WindClan cats didn't know she was dead. She ran up to Lionheart. "I killed your father protecting my family I'll kill you to protect them!" she yowled. "Then do it," he said. She pounced on him and flipped him over and hit him against the rock. She picked up Dappledkit and ran. "Who are you?" she asked. "You're mother," she replied. "Really? I was told you were dead." Dappledkit said. "Well maybe I am," she said. "Who's been raising you?" she asked Dappledkit. "Stormeye," Dappledkit said. She dropped Dappledkit in Gingerstar's den. Gingerstar looked at her sadly. "What?" she asked him. "Dappledkit looks just like you," he whispered.

Sleekstream was sitting outside the nursery waiting for Yellowspots or Dappledpaw to come out and say that Stormeye had just finished kitting. Yellowspots came out. "Stormeye has three healthy kits," he said. Magpiewing went straight in. Nobody could see her but Groundearth and Skycloud. Russetpaw was playing with Eaglepaw. Finstem and Moonpelt's son. Ravenheart of WindClan came running. "Dog...pack...help...death...blood...so much?" Ravenheart rasped. Sleekstream walked into the nursery. Why did Yarrowleaf have to kill her? One of the kits at Stormeye's belly looked just like her. "What will we name this one?" asked Magpiewing. "Sleekkit," said Stormeye. Sleetpaw appeared right behind her. "Will you stop doing that?" she said. He shrugged. "We found a way for you to live again than again you were never dead." Sleetpaw said. He beckoned her with his tail and she followed. "Dig this up," he said. She dug it up to find her body. "Now jump into it," he said. She jumped on it and he disappeared. She went back to camp. "Sleekstream?" said Gingerstar. "How are you here you are dead?" said Hawktaalon. "I never was dead just badly wounded," she said. Gingerstar led her to their den. "I missed you so much," he said sadly. Jayfrost came in. Oh yeah she remembered, Jayfrost and Hollyberry were her mother's littermates. "Sleekstream!" gasped Jayfrost.

Dappledstream was gathering herbs with Sleekstream. "I have a question," Dappledstream said. "Okay," she said. "I was curious when you saved me as a kit you told that cat that you had killed his father to protect your family and that you would do the same to him. Who was his father?" Dappledstream said. "That was a long long time ago," she said. "What was?" Dappledstream asked. "Before you or your siblings were a thought," she explained everything. "So you broke the code to not break the code?" Dappledstream asked. "Sure," she replied. A spasm raked her body and she fell. What's wrong? asked Dappledstream. Don't know. It's been happening ever since the fire. she rushed into her head and she fell unconscious. She was running through a blazing forest. A black dappled tom, a ginger tom, and a black she-cat were all trapped. She ran to the black she-cat and saved her then went to the ginger tom to find him dead then to the black tom to find him dead. She ran out and collapsed.

Sleekstream woke up in Dappledstream's den. What happened? she asked. You fell unconscious for a day and you were twisting and turning. Dappledstream replied. Gingerstar ran in. His eyes were filled with joy. Dappledstream whispered something in his ear. She is expecting kits. she heard Dappledstream murmur in his ear. Joy filled his eyes even more. That's wonderful! he purred. I haven't told her yet. Dappledstream said. Don't worry your whisper voice is more like a normal voice. she replied in amusement. Oh. said Dappledstream. An image of Sharppaw filled her mind. She looked to the side. It's my fault he's dead. she whispered under her breath. Gingerstar seemed to have heard her. Who died? he asked. Sharppaw. she said. Oh yeah the fire. he said. There was arguing outside. Don't touch my nest! said Clearsky. Oh yeah I just did! said his son Jaggedpeak. If you do it- YOU JUST DID IT! Clearsky yowled. Yeah I did if I do it again? Jaggedpeak asked. I WILL TIE UP YOUR LEGS AND THROW YOU OFF A CLIFF! Clearsky shouted. Um should we stop them? she asked. I have no idea. he replied. You can not do that! said Jaggedpeak. OH YES I CAN! Clearsky said wrapping Jaggedpeak's legs together and taking him out of camp. Um okay? said Gingerstar. There was a cry of pain from beside the cliff. Ok he just killed his son. Sleekstream said. Like you did? asked Skycloud. I didn't kill him the fire did! she said. Skycloud walked away. Starflower was just staring at Clearsky's nest. Don't you dare. snarled Clearsky from the camp entrance. So that just happened. Gingerstar said as they went to their den.

Sleekstream was laying on her side in great pain. Dappledstream was giving her herbs while Shimmerpaw tried to find a thick stick. The first kit is coming. said Dappledstream. She pushed as hard as she could and a tiny wet silver bundle was next to her. It's a tom. said Shimmerpaw back with a stick. Shimmerpaw dropped the stick in front of her. I need Gingerstar! she yowled. It's usually best if the father waits outside. Also you have had two litters before without him. Dappledstream said. I need him! she said. Gingerstar came running in. This is also my den so I am allowed in here. he said. She picked up the stick as another wave of pain went over her. The next kit is coming. said Shimmerpaw. She pushed hard and the kit came. A tiny little smaller than most of the kits she had had ginger bundle was next to her. It's a she-cat. said Dappledstream. Nearly there just five more to go. said Shimmerpaw. That's not nearly the- she was cut off by another wave of pain the strongest one yet. The next one is coming. said Dappledstream. It was coming a bit slower than normal and then just stopped. It's stuck! exclaimed Shimmerpaw. Get some burnet. NOW! said Dappledstream. Are you okay? asked Gingerstar. She didn't want to talk so she shook her head. Shimmerpaw came back and dropped a leaf and she ate it. The kit was still there. You'll thank me for this. said Dappledstream. Dappledstream pushed hard on Sleekstream's belly causing even more pain but a blood covered kit came.

Sleekstream had seven newborn kits at her belly. She was so exhausted. There was an albino kit. Sleekfrost came in. Stormeye told me to bring you a fish. Sleekfrost said. She ate the fish. Sleekstream nodded a thanks. Sleetpaw appeared behind her. I told you to stop doing that. she told him. Okay I'll stop. I just wanted to see your kits. he said. I know you came for more. she said. Fine. StarClan sent me to tell you this: In the Clans' Greatest time of need three cats will save them one white as snow one as silver as the moon the other as ginger as fire all from the same litter. he said looking at her kits. Sleetpaw disappeared again. Gingerstar came in. Do they have names yet? he asked. Three of them do, Firekit, Snowkit, and Moonkit. she said tapping each one as she named it. How about Silverkit for this one. he said. Flamekit for this one. she said. Ivykit? he asked. Sure and Clearkit. she said. So many siblings. said Russetpelt. So you think we should exile Clearsky? she asked. Sure. said Russetpelt sadly. What is wrong? asked Gingerstar. Jaggedpeak had just asked me to be his mate when Clearsky killed him.

Chapter 7

Clearsky leave now or you will be killed. snarled Gingerstar. You will regret this! Clearsky yowled

Prologue

A white tom and a gray she-cat were going to a twoleg place hoping to find food and shelter. They heading to an ally. "Hey Clearsky are you sure it's safe?" asked the gray she-cat. "Of course it is Starflower." he said. "What are you doing here?" asked a small black tom with a purple color with teeth in it and a white paw. "We are looking for a group of cats called BloodClan." Clearsky said. "Well then follow me." said the black tom. The two travelers followed him. Soon they got to a place with cans and bags and scraps of food and lots of cats. "Welcome to BloodClan camp." said the tom. "I am Scourge their leader and this is Bone my deputy." he said pointing to a large white tom with a green color. A scent of dog hit his nose. "It is it's a dog!" yelled Starflower. A cream male dog came over. "It's fine guys honestly. This is Waffles, our friend." said Scourge. "So would you like to join BloodClan?" asked Bone. "Yes we would." said Clearsky. Scourge picked up two purple colors and put them on Clearsky and Starflower. These colors were covered in dog teeth. "Where did you get these?" asked Starflower. "Killing dogs, the color colour means you are my denmates. The teeth mean you are important. And I would like to shorten your names to Sky and Flower." he said. They both nodded. "Sky! Flower! Sky! Flower!" BloodClan chanted.

Chapter 1

Sleekstream sat with her mate, Gingerstar and watched their daughter's kits play. Their father had been killed by Clearsky or whatever his name was now and his mate Starflower had gone with him. "Hey Jaggedkit come here." said Fadingkit. They were rolling in the sand. Firepaw, Snowpaw, and Moonpaw were sitting together. It was nearly leaf-bare and they had to enjoy the warmth while it lasted. Sleetpaw's words rang in her head. "You never wanted a third litter did you?" asked Gingerstar. "It took me by surprise. So soon after the fire." Sleekstream replied. "I asked if you ever wanted a third litter." he said. "If I hadn't the cats to save the clan-uh I wasn't supposed to say that." she said. "So keeping secrets from me are you?" he snarled. "Sletpaw told me to keep it to myself." she said taken aback. "So this Sletpaw g-" he was cut off by her. "Sletpaw was my and Brackenfur's brother. Not just a random cat!" she snarled. "So another secret I never knew you had littermates!" he snarled. "Then you don't know who I am!" she snarled and stormed off and out of camp. She felt bad about the argument but it was him who had started talking about secrets. She scented him coming toward her. "I'm sorry." he said. She cuffed him. "You better be." she said. A strong and disgusting scent hit her nose. "Badger." they said at the same time. A massive creature came barging over. Gingerstar leaped at it but it slammed him down and blood trickled out of his mouth as the badger came towards her. She jumped up and landed on the badger's neck. She clawed its neck and it ran leaving her alone with Gingerstar. "Please don't say this is your last life." she said. "No this is only the second one I have lost." he said. He stopped breathing for a few moments and then got up strong as ever. She pressed against him and they headed back to camp to find a huge fire.

Chapter 2

Sleekstream ran to help the clan. Most of them were out but two cats trapped in different spots. She looked around to find Gingerstar but he was gone. She could only choose one her brother or Magpiewing who's mate was Stormeye who was expecting kits. She looked at Brackenfur as he shook his head she ran to Magpiewing jumped over the fire and got him out told him to run and was about to follow him when she saw Sleetpaw telling her to come to him. So she went but a blazing branch fell down and trapped her. She tried to escape without burning herself which sadly was impossible. She looked up and fell unconscious.

She woke in the medicine den. To find Gingerstar wrapped around her. "Gingerstar?" she asked. "Yes I'm here." he said. "How long have I been unconscious?" she asked. "About a moon." he said calmly. "You mean Jaggedkit and Fadingkit are apprentices?" she asked. "Yes and Stormeye had her kits and is very thankful you saved Magpiewing." he said. "What are their names?" she asked. "Mosskit, Nightkit, and Turtlekit." he said. Dappledstream was walking by and told her to come with her. They got to a tree stump. "What is it?" she asked. "Can you keep a secret?" she Dappledstream asked. Sleekstream nodded. "I have been meeting Duskfeather at night and I am now expecting his kits." Dappledstream said. "And your point is?" she asked. "I need you to raise them." Dappledstream said. "Okay I will." she said. "Thank you so much." Dappledstream said. "Now when will they come so I can convince Gingerstar they are his." she asked. "Two moons." Dappledstream said. She nodded and they went back to camp. "Gingerstar!" she called. He came out of the medicine den. "Can we speak in private in your den." she asked. "I like it when you say that and yes." he said. They padded into their den and sat down. "I am expecting kits." she said. "When are they due?" he asked. "Two moons." she replied.

It had been nearly two moons since Sleekstream had found out that Dappledstream was expecting. Dappledstream walked up to her. "We need to tell Gingerstar we are collecting a rare herb and will be gone for a few days." Dappledstream said. She headed for Gingerstar. "Me and Dappledstream need to go collect a rare herb and will be gone for a few days." she told him. "What about th-" she cut him off. "I will be with a medicine cat and there is Shimerlight here." she told him

"So is this a good spot?" asked Dappledstream. "Yes it is." Sleekstream said. She felt a sharp pang in her belly. As they settled down. "I think I was only half lying to Gingerstar." Sleekstream said worried. "How?" asked Dappledstream. "I think I really am expecting," she said. Dappledstream looked at her. "Do you think they are due?" asked Dappledstream. "Soon. Like soon soon," she moaned. "Like right now?" asked Dappledstream. "Do you y-" she cut off by a spasm of pain in her belly. "Here comes the first one," said Dappledstream. "Do you t-" she was cut off by a strong pain and an even stronger one. "It's nearly there," Dappledstream said. Another wave of pain and a ginger kit was next to her. "It's a tom," Dappledstream said. She put a paw on her belly. "One or two more," Dappledstream said. "My smallest litter! Another one was coming through her body fast. Another is comin-" Dappledstream stopped talking and stared in horror. "What's wrong with my kit?" she asked worriedly. "It's coming tail first," Dappledstream said. A huge pain hit her hard and a silver kit was next to her. The pain was over. "That was the shortest kitting I've had yet," she said surprised.

Five kits lay at Sleekstream's belly three Dappledstream's two hers. She lay next to Gingerstar. Graykit, Ravenkit, Sandkit Dustkit, and Fleetkit. "I bet we've had more kits than any cat before," he said. "Yeah," she said. "Is there something you need to tell me?" asked Gingerstar. "Ravenkit, Fleetkit, and Sandkit are Dappledstream's kits," she said. Gingerstar gasped. Dappledstream looked up to see her. Her eyes said everything. "Se-" Gingerstar was cut off by her. "Don't you dare." Sleekstream cut him off. He looked aside. Three cats padded into the den. I guess they want to know about their powers.

Brackenpaw followed the gray tom through the forest. "Hey Brackenpaw, catch up!" a gray she-cat said. "I will!" he said. A ginger tom dropped down from a tree. "What is it Fireheart?" the gray tom asked ?Tigerclaw suspects you.?Fireheart said, a snarl in his voice.?So, I can't spend a day with my without you interrupting me? I'm trying to follow your advice.?the gray tom said padding off.

Brackenpaw jumped up.?Are you going to train us??he asked.?Go pester Runningwind.?Fireheart answered padding off towards camp.Cinderpaw bounded off.Brackenpaw headed for camp.Fireheart was talking with Dustpaw.Cinderpaw leaped up and said something.?No! Fireheart told her.
Fireheart left.Goldenflower walked out of the Leader's den.?She's going to get worse before she gets any better."Goldenflower told Yellowfang.Cinderpaw padded off.

Fireheart and a brown tabby tom came running into camp holding Cinderpaw.Yellowfang ran out of her den.She sniffed Cinderpaw.?She'll never be a warrior.?

Graystripe lay in his nest.Bigbird came in.Mousepaw padded in.?Have you seen Brackenstar??Bigbird asked.?No.?he said.Mouspaw stretched out.Alderheart padded in.?Poppyfrost has Greencough and I want you in here.?he told Graystripe.A scent came to his tongue.Brackenstar! Their leader came back.

Brackenstar came in.?Old friend.?Brackenstar said to Graystripe.Alderheart looked up nervously.?What??Brackenstar asked.?Poppyfrost has Greencough.?Alderhear said.Brackenstar left the den.A tuft of fur fell off his paw.Graystripe stood up and sniffed it.Memories flooded into his head.Graystripe sat in awe looking at his son.She's gone.Stormfur sat next to him.?She died a brave death.?Squirrelpaw said.

Graystripe leaped up following the cat.?A group of cats came by a while ago, they stayed here for a few days, renamed one of their to-bes and a tom named Stormfur decided to stay here with us.? the she-cat said.They came into a huge cave.Millie hid beside him.A gray tom leaped at him.Millie hissed and slashed him.?Stormfur! Graystripe said to his son.?Dad!?Stormfur said.

Graystripe leaped in front of Brackenstar.?Why was a tuft of Stormfur's fur between your claws??Graystripe asked.?What are you talking about??Brackenstar asked.Graystripe showed him the fur.Brackenstar looked nervous.?Are you sure that's his fur??Brackenstar asked.?I would know my son's fur anywhere! Graystripe snarled.Brackenstar left the den.

Flaggy gives up on this.Time is not on my hands.

The Forgotten Howl Journey's Begin

Chapter 4

The Forrgetten Howl Journey's Begin

Prologue

Striker leaped at the female wolf, he struck her to the ground. "Striker, don't do this," she gasped. "Shade, You disobeyed my father's law! Wolves are all the same, we fight to survive whether you like it or not! My father said so!" Striker snarled.

"What if your father was wrong?" Shade asked. "How dare you!" growled the bloodstained golden male. "Damien doesn't need to be right every time, your father is weak for thinking that!" Shade snarled. Striker's eyes widened as he killed her. He brought together his team of wolves as they headed for a dark cave.

"Stop, we'll deal with her pups later, for now...we need a new leader, Damien is weak." Striker said. A black wolf nodded and led the group to a large hollow. A teal and red wolf with blue eyes looked up. "Father, I challenge you!" Striker screeched. Damien smiled as a brown female whispered something in his ear and he shook her off. "Pride, I'm fine, I can fight my own son." Damien told her. Striker led his gang to the battle hollow and launched at his father. Damien dodged and Striker hit a tree. He stood up and shook his fur and bared his teeth in a snarl and launched at Damien, his claws aimed for his father's throat. Too tired to move Damien fell under Striker's paws. Damien pushed his off and they were locked in battle. Damien was pinned by the throat and easily killed.

Ghosts came to Striker, a black female came up to him. "So you're allowed to disobey him and live? I had pups!" she said. Striker tilted his head and left to his home. The pack followed him. "Ash, kill the Pack's pups, I want a new start." Striker snarled and a gray flecked male nodded and ran off. The Pack howled as the moon rose. "Goodbye sun, time to welcome the night!" Striker snarled.

Chapter 1

Shadow curled up beside his sisters, Quick and Stream. Their father got up and sniffed the air. He squinted his eyes to see farther. "What are you doing daddy?" asked Quick. "I thought I smelled Damien's pack, The wouldn't normally attack us, though." said their father. A loud laugh came from the entrance.

"But we will!" said a large golden male. Father leaped at him but was stopped by a very light white male. "Ghost, you know better than to stop the battle." snarled the golden male. They battled until Father was below the male. "Oh, don't make it so easy Takata!" the male snarled. Father pushed him off.

"There you go Takata! Better than last time!" said the male. Ghost leaped at Shadow and his sisters. Shadow whimpered as Father tried to get to them. The male stopped Father. "Let's see, how about this, I killed Shade." said the male. "Why Striker? She was your sister!" Father yelled at the male. Ghost stopped. "She betrayed the law! Damien forbade her from seeing you." Striker said. Father stopped, stunned. "Damien wasn't that cruel!" yelled Father. "Oh yes he was." said Striker snapping Father's neck. Father whimpered and opened his mouth to say something. "Run away...survive?" he told his pups weakly. Shadow whimpered and hid in a crevice watching Ghost kill Striker and his pack looked around for Shadow and soon gave up and left. Shadow got out of hiding and picked up his father's Guitar. His father had once been a Town Wolf. Shadow got up and ran away from his birth den.

Chapter 2

Shadow approached the Town, wolves swarmed around it, most having bags in their mouths. He swung his father's Guitar onto his back and ran to the town. A large cave was in front of him titled 'School' it had a bunch of pups in it and a full grown wolf talking to them. The pups sat behind stone tables. '-Raven, would you like to tell the class about Whiteshadow and Silver?' asked the full grown wolf.

'Sure!' said a black pup with glowing blue eyes and purple bangs. She ran up to the front and sat down. 'Whiteshadow was a young pup th-hey, who's that?' she asked pointing at him. Shadow got up. 'I need a new name.' 'Umm...I'm Wander.' he said. The full grown wolf looked at him. Her cream fur glowing. 'I'm Cream.' she said. Wander walked in slowly. 'Where are you from?' she asked.

'I used to live near Damien's Territory then Striker challenged Damien and killed my family.' Wander told Cream and the wolf pups. 'I feel like I knew your father, what was his name?' she asked. 'Takata.' he said. 'Wait, your father's name was Pure?' asked a pup. 'No, it means pure but it was Takata.' he said. Cream looked at him. 'I knew your father.' she said. 'I'll take you in my class,' Raven continued. Cream said. Wander walked over to a table and sat down.

'As I was saying, Whiteshadow was the son of Snow and Shade, the Alphas of ShadowPack and WhitePack. Silver and his pack came and killed all of them but Whiteshadow so he came here. He found a mate named Rosy and had a son named Dark.Silver one day came and killed Rosy but when and Whiteshadow fought they gave each other wounds so bad they killed each other.?Raven finished.

?Very good Raven, now go back to your seat.?Cream said.A loud sound rang and everybody left.A bunch of adult wolves were outside to greet their pups.A golden male pup with cream lightning bolts under his eyes stayed.?Mom, where is Wander gonna go??he asked.Cream looked at her son.?I don?t know Lightning.?she said.Wander got up and left.

Wander ran out of School to his den.He put his stuff down and took off his Guitar to play it.?Running through the woods, trying to find a new home.Instead, I found you! Not too bad but I found somewhere to live toooo!?!he sang.He lifted his head to put his Guitar on again.

?Hey.Wander, can I come in??came a voice from outside.?Sure.?he said.A female wolf came through the moss.?Oh, hey Raven.?he said.?I heard you playing, well actually I thought it was Lightning playing but I wanted to...um...see you??she said.She seemed uncomfortable talking about her boyfriend in his den.?Yeah, I can see the mistake, Lightning does play better.?he said.She nodded. A howl echoed through the town.It was familiar.?Striker!?!he said out loud.?Who??asked Raven.?Remember that wolf I told the class about when I first got to The Town, Striker, that?s him!?!Wander said.Raven whimpered as pawsteps came from outside.

?Come out come out little Shadow.?came a voice.?Go away Striker!?!snarled Wander.The golden male leaped in, only now he saw how much Striker and Lightning looked alike.?Raven, go get Lightning.?he whispered to her.She nodded and ran out.?Oh, so much like your father, putting others before you.?chuckled Striker.Raven came back with Lightning.

?Dad??Lightning said.Raven gasped.?Lightning??asked Striker.Raven gasped and backed away.Wander approached Striker silently.?So, choose one, leave or your son pays.?Wander snarled.Striker looked at Lightning and he nodded.Striker sighed and ran off.

Lightning howled and ran off too. Raven whimpered and laid down. Wander left to go talk to soon got there. She looked at him and nodded.

?I heard Lightning?s howl, Striker was here.?she said.?YOU KNEW WHO STRIKER WAS! YOU TOLD ME YOU HAD NEVER HEARD OF HIM! YOU ARE A LIAR!?.screched Wander. Cream looked aside.?I know where his den is.?she said.?Take me there.?

Like I said, I?m a very busy person.

Chapter 5

Scareye's Rise

Prolouge

A red tabby tom was running through the woods. He jumped over a root and was pounced on by a dark gray tom. "Who are you?" asked the tom sharply. "Quiet. There are enemy Clan Warriors here," the gray tom said. "Where?" the tabby asked. "Over there," the gray tom said.

ShadowClan! The tabby saw a ginger tom look at them. "Over there! Two loners!" the tom yelled. The two cats ran away as fast as their paws would carry them. "My name is Hawk," the dark gray tom said. "Flameclaw," the tabby said.

"Gingerpaw stop!" yelled a white she-cat. Flameclaw turned around to see Gingerpaw on top of Hawk. "Hawk!" Flameclaw yelled in despair. Gingerpaw sank his claws into the gray tom's neck. Hawk sank beneath the ginger apprentice's grip. "Flameclaw?..run?..don't worry about me?." Hawk gasped. Flameclaw looked around as the enemy Clan closed around him. He ran away leaving Hawk behind.

Scarkit leaped at his father. Flameclaw chuckled. "Scarkit! Don't tell me you're attacking your father again." Yellowheart said. Hawkkit his brother came over. "Little brother you are such a mess up." he laughed.

Yellowheart nodded. Her gray pelt shining in the dawn light. Scarkit sat down as Dawnstar came in. "I want your kits ready for their ceremony." she said. Yellowheart nodded and started licking Hawkkit. "Scarkit only." Dawnstar said looking over her shoulder as she left.

Scarkit was quickly groomed as Dawnstar called the meeting. "Scarkit you are now Scarpaw and Flameclaw will mentor you." Dawnstar said. Scarpaw smiled as the Clan cheered his name. A dark gray tom walked up to the Medicine Cat. "Danger comes to the Clans with every step a scar takes." he heard the tom say. Solheart nodded and padded away.

Scarpaw sat down confused. "Come on Scarpaw. Time to train." Flameclaw said. Scarpaw followed his father to the Training Hollow. "Today I'll teach you the Warrior crouch." said Flameclaw. They battle trained until sunset. They headed back to camp and Scarpaw went to his den.

He fell asleep and woke up in a dark starless forest. A black and white tom with amber eyes padded over. "Hello Scarpaw." the tom said. "Who are you?" Scarpaw demanded. "I am Thistleclaw."

Scarpaw looked behind him and saw loads of cats fighting. Gingerclaw of ShadowClan, Splashfur, Salmonheart, and Nightstrike of RiverClan, Swiftclaw of WindClan and Silentstalk of SkyClan. "Why am I here?" he asked. "Welcome to the Dark Forest." Thistleclaw said.

Scarpaw smiled and unsheathed his claws. "Scarpaw, go fight Silentstalk, that'll be a easy battle." Thistleclaw told him. Scarpaw nodded and leaped at Silentstalk. She dodged but too slowly. Scarpaw slashed her face and she fell down.

Swiftclaw ran up to him and he leaped on him. Scarpaw bit him right on the paw. Swiftclaw screeched in pain. Thistleclaw smiled. "Okay Scarpaw, I'd like you to fight Gingerclaw." he said. Gingerclaw leaped at Scarpaw and slashed his face.

Scarpaw was temporarily blinded in that eye. Thistleclaw stood between them. "Now we know where you stand." Thistleclaw said and smiled.

Chapter 2

Scarpaw stalked the mouse. It's tiny body was scuffling in the ferns. He leaped at it and killed it. He brought his kill to camp. "You passed your assessment." said Dawnstar.

"But I only caught one mouse." Scarpaw said. "True, but the apprentice's den is overflowing with cats so, yeah." she said. "Scareye!" she screeched.

Scareye fell asleep because he was tired and haunted his brother's dreams.

Scareye woke up and a golden tom with sky blue eyes looked at him.
