Introduction

Hi everyone! I have created this so people can let out their worries without being judged. Vent about anything and I will be here to listen

Chapter 1

Hi everyone,

My name is Crazymadison and I love helping people! This is why I have a created this so anyone can vent about ANYTHING! Let out all of your stress in this safe community!

Rules:

No judging other people. You may not understand what some people are going through but that does not give you any right to judge them.

No arguing. Please take that somewhere else!

Swearing is allowed as it is censored by allthetests so any young people won't be able to see it!

You can vent as many times as you like.

I may not be able to reply to every comment but I will check these comments every day so rest assured that your vents have been read by someone who cares!
