Introduction

Fennec is sent to the Black Continent to escape the war raging in Pyrrhia. But can she escape the prophecy that could mean death to her fellow SandWing?

Chapter 1

Hello, I am Anastasia Chance, or Anna. This is my first story, and I am excited to share my ideas!
Anastasia Chance is a pen name, and I hope you enjoy reading Wings of Fire: The Black Continent!

Chapter 2

“Remember, it will be safer in the new continent,” Gazelle said, twining her tail with her little sister’s.

Fennec looked at her like she was crazy. “How so?” She spoke. “The SandWings won’t be there to protect me from the wildlife there.”

“You’ll be fine,” Cholla said. “Me and Gazelle will be going to Jade Academy, and you’ll be going to the Black Continent.”

Fennec gave both of her sisters a crazy eyed look. “I’m not so sure I like its name. It’s not very...” She paused. “...comforting.”

Bighorn, Dingo, Skeleton, Warthog, Pyramid, and Pharaoh all laughed.

“Sis, it will be fine!” Psamathe assured her. She smiled sweetly.

Fennec frowned. “I couldn’t come home, though...” She grumbled.

“Younger dragonets like you have to go to the Black Continent. You’ll be safer from war,” Skeleton said, hugging his little sister.

“Fennec!” Someone called and walked in. It was a ginormous SandWing Fennec knew to be her father, Hyena, Queen Date, his wife, by his side.

“It’s time for you to go, Fennec,” Queen Date ordered. “Sandstone will accompany you.”

“Why can’t I just fly, mum, or stay to help fight?” Fennec begged.

“We’ve been over this, it’s all the way across the world, Fennec,” Hyena said. “Now the boats leaving. You two can take off once you see Cheetah in the sky.”

Fennec growled a bit and stepped out to see the handsome Sandstone saying goodbye to his many girlfriends and fans.

“Let’s go, Sandstone,” Fennec snarled.

“Please, call me Sand,” Sandstone said and winked at Fennec.

?Not in your wildest dreams. I am going to hate being stuck on a boat with a total...um...? Fennec wondered.

?Dreamboat?? Sandstone said and the females squealed in delight.

Fennec shook her head sharply and lifted off.

Sandstone looked a bit aggravated and followed her.

In silence, they boarded the boat.

In silence, they got to the halfway point.

In silence, they ate their bread, drank, and drank their water.

Finally, Fennec broke the silence. ?Why is the whole of Pyrrhia at war again?? She whispered.

For the first time, Sandstone was serious. ?I don't know...but everyone's blaming it on NightWings and SandWings becoming an alliance.?

?Why?? Fennec murmured.

?Because we wanted to help the weaker tribes...I guess,? Sandstone said.

?How come you're never serious?? Fennec suddenly burst out. Sandstone looked mad.

?How come you're never attracted to men, only your studies and training?? Sandstone shot back.

?Because there are no good ones!? Fennec growled.

?Then because I think there are so many good girls to fall for, but mainly you!? Sandstone shouted. He covered his snout immediately. ?Forget I said that.?

?It will be very, very difficult,? Fennec murmured.

They saw Cheetah and grabbed their stuff, rain pouring down, and flew after him.

?So, kids, I'll take you to the academy-? Cheetah said.

?The academy!? Fennec and Sandstone both shouted.

Well, it wasn't. And even with the tribes having enforced schools...

...Fennec had never been to school in her life.

Chapter 3

?Those are the dorms you?ll sleep in. Now get some rest, you have school tomorrow,? Cheetah said.

?Well, uh, bye...? Sandstone said and walked into his dorm.

Fennec walked into her dorm room, and it was completely empty.

Well, almost.

There was a NightWing in the corner, grumbling in her sleep, and a black RainWing, seeming distraught and upset.

Of course, her bright, glimmering, golden scales stood out, and immediately the RainWing looked up right away, and immediately copied her scales, flicking her tail to try and make it look barbed. Of course, that woke the NightWing up, who accidentally fell out of her hammock.

?What is the name of life are you doing, Chimpanzee!?! The NightWing shouted at the female RainWing.

?I?ve been t-trying to master everyone who came into here, D-Deathchaser!?! The RainWing, apparently Chimpanzee, stuttered.

?Stop!?! Fennec said suddenly. ?Who are you guys??

?I?m Ch-Chimpanzee...? The RainWing said nervously.

?I?m Deathchaser,? The NightWing said. ?Who?re you??

?I?m Fennec...a SandWing,? Fennec answered.

?Obviously,? Chimpanzee and Deathchaser said simultaneously.

?We saw you come in with that...other dragon,? Chimpanzee said, a little braver.

?Sandstone. He?s flirty, beware!?! Fennec said sarcastically.

Suddenly, all three dragons laughed like crazy.

?Uh-oh, here comes flirty!?! Deathchaser jokes.

?Look out, he has batty eyelashes!?! Chimpanzee giggled.

Suddenly, there was some silence.

?I don?t like guys,? Chimapanzee suddenly offered. ?I like girls.?

?I don?t like anyone in general,? Deathchaser said.

Fennec nodded. ?Me neither...? She broke off in a yawn.

?We should sleep,? Chimpanzee said.

?Dibs on the hammock!?! Deathchaser shouted and curled up into it.

?For some reason, I want to sleep in the mini-cave,? Chimpanzee said.

Then I?ll sleep on the platform...

Fennec crawled onto the platform, the moonlight hitting her scales perfectly.

This is perfect...

?WAKE UP!?! Someone suddenly screamed. Cheetah, Sandstone, and three other males were behind him.

Cheetah was holding a scroll. The IceWing and SkyWing were giant, but the SeaWing was terribly small.

Cheetah opened the scroll while Fennec, Deathchaser, and Chimpanzee were having their ears bled out while the four others were screaming.

?SHUT UP ALL OF YOU!?! Cheetah screeched. All the dragonets shut up immediately and Cheetah read the scroll. ?In this order, the dragonets shall come, the dragonet of Night shall come first, leading Ice to come. Soon the Sky will brighten, and Rain will fall. After the Seas will rise, pulling back the Two clawfuls, they are. They will bring the end to the war of Sand and Rain. Sand and Ice will fall in love, and soon new dawn will be.?

?Huh-?? Deathchaser mumbled. ?You came screaming into our room just to recite that stupid prophecy that was given to Pyrrhia??

?She?s definitely blind,? The SkyWing grumbled.

Fennec gave him a quick glare and a menacing flick of her poisonous tail to shut him up.

?Me and my mate, Rosebud, think you dragonets are those mentioned in the prophecy and the famous scroll, Sand?s Child,? Cheetah said.

?Hogwash,? Chimpanzee mumbled.

?I can see it,? Fennec said. ?But doesn?t part of the prophecy says, but one clawful of sand shall wash away to be replaced by Mud?? Fennec shuddered. ?As in death??

?Er, yes,? Cheetah said.

?Have we even met the ugly dragons behind you?? Deathchaser said coldly. Fennec and Chimpanzee snickered.

?EXCUSE ME, BUT I AM EXTREMELY HANDSOME!?! Sandstone barked at all of them.

?Your head is swollen because of the size of your ego,? Chimpanzee scoffed.

?I?m Snow Leopard,? The IceWing said. ?And yes, these three are extremely ugly.?

The SkyWing shot Snow Leopard with an angry look. ?I?m Phoenix,? He growled. ?And am tempted to kill this piece of carrion over here.? He flicked his wing towards Snow Leopard and the two started wrestling with each other.

?It?s good to meet you...kind of,? The SeaWing said shyly. He looked at Chimpanzee and gawked at how she was changing from IceWing, to SkyWing, to SeaWing, to SandWing, to NightWing, back and forth. ?I-I?m Crawdad.?

?I?m the only handsome, sane one around here, and I?m Sandstone, lovely lover of that one,? he said, flicking his tail towards Fennec.

?Don?t you just love her feistiness?? Sandstone said.

?My bets are on him dying,? Deathchaser hissed.

?Who are you girls, anyway?? Snow Leopard asked curiously. ?Just wondering.?

?I?m Princess Deathchaser, heir to the NightWing throne,? Deathchaser introduced regally.

?You lie,? Chimpanzee snorted.

?It was worth a shot,? The NightWing said with a shrug.

?I?m Chimpanzee...? Chimpanzee said. ?...and I like copying dragon?s scales. Like, a lot.?

?I caught that,? Phoenix murmured unkindly.

?I?m Fennec,? Fennec said loudly. ?And I need to stop the war to see my family again.?

?Great, now that we?ve all been introduced...? Cheetah said. ?Time for class!?

?This early!? Sandstone, Fennec, and Crawdad shouted. Fennec gave Crawdad a puzzled look, given he?d been there before them.

?I got here, like, an hour before you,? Crawdad said.

?Oh,? Both the SandWings said.

?Anyway, off to class!?

Chapter 4

Fennec looked at the cotton uniform she had to wear to the classes. She fit her wings through and looked at Deathchaser and Chimpanzee, who looked as ridiculous as she felt.

‘Let’s go...’ Fennec murmured. She followed the boys as they walked out, and she and her friends couldn’t help but snicker at how funny they looked.

Of course, Sandstone was stopping to investigate every water puddle to admire his reflection.

The first period was Dragon History.

The second period was Scrolls and Their Importance to Knowledge.

The third period was Flying.

The fourth period was Navigation.

The fifth period was Special SandWing Classes: SandWings Only

By the sixth period, Lunch and Study Session, Fennec couldn’t take it.

‘I learned all of this thanks to Queen Date!’ She growled.

‘Haven’t you ever been to school before?’ Chimpanzee asked. ‘It’s required in each tribe!’

‘Well, from studies, it seems like Miss Fennec here is royalty,’ A voice sounded from behind them, and Phoenix swooped down from the air and sat next to them, Crawdad, Snow Leopard, and Sandstone hot on his trail.

‘Which means her mother probably got her out of doing schoolwork,’ Snow Leopard concluded.

‘I’m the youngest in my family,’ Fennec said. ‘What do you expect? Queen Date wanted to cater to my every need. This is why I was surprised when she sent me to the Black Continent, the most unknown place in all dragonkind.’

Crawdad seemed to be considering this. ‘That is pretty suspicious. I wonder why she did it?’

‘Who knows. She claimed it was ‘too dangerous’ for me and Sandstone. There were dragonets

?Maybe your mother is hiding something,? Crawdad said. ?What do you think Sandstone??

?I would never talk carrion about my loyal queen,? Sandstone said.

?Good for you,? Deathchaser grumbled.

?Well, whatever it is...? Fennec started. ?...I?m skipping the next classes to find out.?

Chapter 5

“SKIP CLASSES!” Crowdad shouted. “That would mean automatic suspension!”

“An added plus,” Fennec said grimly.

“I don’t know...I don’t like the sound of that too much,” Chimpanzee confessed. “Alone? In the Black Continent? Who knows what lurks here!”

“Maybe the mythical StarWings?” Fennec offered hopefully. “Besides, I want to find more out about this prophecy. Which is why before I escape, I’m raiding the entire library.”

“If there are scrolls, I’m in!” Snow Leopard said with a sudden eagerness to his voice.

“Scrollworm,” Deathchaser snickered, and Snow Leopard glared at her once more.

“So... we’re doing this?” Chimpanzee asked nervously.

“So, first, we pretend we have a big project due, and head to the library. I know that there are poisonous tiger pufferfish in the cafeteria, so we might as well get them and serve them wrong to the librarian,” Fennec said.

“Won’t that kill her?” Sandstone asked.

“She’s a NightWing, and NightWings don’t die from that. At most, she’ll have a little food poisoning,” Fennec explained. “Then, we pretend we need some fresh air, because they keep all the doors locked. Finally, we fly to the highest tree.”

“That seems reasonable,” Chimpanzee said. “When do we start?”

Suddenly, a screech came, telling them lunch was over.

“Right now.”

Chapter 6

Fennec walked over to one of the MudWing teachers. "Hello. We have a big project due. May we head to the library?" She spoke.

"That was what the study session was for, SandWing," The teacher said sternly. "Please report to your next class."

"Um, but it's really big for..." Fennec started. Think. What was your next class? Fennec snuck a peak at her schedule, and her next class was...

...smeared.

Dang it! She looked closer, and then got a brilliant idea. "Sorry, miss. I must have been a bit confused. Could you tell me what my next class is?" She asked innocently.

The MudWing examined the schedule closer and frowned. "Report to the front office, SandWing. Ask for Lilypad, she's our schedule manager," The MudWing said to her, and took off for a ledge on the ceiling.

"Guys, I have an idea," Fennec said. "If these dragons are as smart as I think they are, they might be dumb."

"Huh?" All of them said in unison.

"Well, we could trick them into thinking they got the schedules confused and we could smear the next class, then put an 'L' in the front of it and 'Y' at the end, so they think we all have the library for our next period," Fennec said. All of them got to work in smearing their next class, but Fennec stopped Crawdad before he smeared his. "Crawdad, can you get us the fish from the back? Pretend you slipped, the hunters will hear the crash, come running, and get you some ice from the freezer. Pretend you need to come with them and get the fish on your way out. Got it?"

Crawdad nodded and got to work as they all flew over to the front office.

"May we see Lilypad?" Sandstone asked.

The dragon at the front nodded and got a SeaWing from the back.

"Well, you dragonets seem to have...for Fennec, math, for Snow Leopard, IceWing training, for

?But it looks like they all say library! Are you sure that the computer isn't wrong?? Fennec whined in her best little dragonet voice.

?You can go to the library for now, but-? Lilypad started, but the dragonets were already off.

Crawdad was already there, and the librarian was already knocked out. ?Get all you can!? Crawdad said. All of them stocked up on the important scrolls before they walked over to a security guard by the balcony.

?Sir, I don't feel good...? Phoenix moaned like he was sick while the others hid.

?Well, step outside for a bit, get some fresh air,? The strong-looking guard said. ?Go on now!?

Phoenix flew outside, and while the guard wasn't looking, he made noises like he came back inside, but really hid in a plant and started jumping from each one to unlock the main door the others were hiding by.

?Hurry!? Fennec whisper shouted.

?How did you manage to open it? You need a key to-? Sandstone started, and Phoenix held up a main key.

?Got it under control, good buddy,? Phoenix said coolly.

Each dragonet ripped off their uniforms and threw them into a nearby lava pool for them to burn.

Little did they know they were being watched.

Chapter 7

Fennec woke up to a screeching coming from outside the leaves she and the others nested in, and Deathchaser stuffed herself in.

‘There’s someone coming!’ She hissed.

‘They look really young, about our age,’ Crawdad put in.

‘They’re carrying one of our uniforms!’ Deathchaser went on.

The dragon landed, revealing a tiny MudWing.

‘Is this one of yours?’ She spoke.

‘Huh?’ All of them said.

Fennec stepped forward, realizing that the uniform was her’s, and that the MudWing’s scales looked singed, but not damaged.

‘You were born from a blood-red egg, like the historian and founder of Jade Academy, Clay!’ Fennec suddenly said excitedly.

‘Yup! It’s in our blood. I’m related to him!’ The MudWing beamed. ‘I’m Cypress, by the way.’

‘Pretty name,’ Snow Leopard said to her.

Cypress smiled. ‘Thanks,’ she said.

‘So, uh, do you want to camp out with us?’ Fennec offered.

‘Sure, it’s cold out there,’ she said, squishing herself in.

Fennec grabbed a scroll, and with the little light she had, she read it.

And with shock, she realized it was the prophecy scroll.

And it dawned on her that Cypress was here to take her or Sandstone’s place.

IF WE GET 5 TAKERS/VIEWS ON THIS, I WILL MAKE A THE BLACK CONTINENT: PART 2!

Introduction

I decided to write a bit about Fennec the SandWing (go read her and her friend's adventures in Wings of Fire: The Black Continent).

Chapter 1

Name: Fennec

Tribe: SandWing

Mother: Queen Date

Father: Hyena

Sisters: Cholla, Gazelle, Pyramid, Pharaoh, Psamthe.

Brothers: Bighorn, Dingo, Skeleton, Warthog.

Looks: strangely bright gold with treasure-looking dull yellow scales around her ankles like a bracelet, curved horns that twist out, a sharp golden tail that is poisonous and can kill.

Likes: Cherries, her family, sand, and her friends, though she won't admit it.

Hates: Cypress, Sandstone (love/hate relationship), grapes, and the rainforest.

Is Fennec based on a real person: Yes. I think Fennec is a character based on me, slightly, and a bit of my sister.

Thank you for reading!

Welcome back to another Black Continent story!

Chapter 1

Hey guys! Before we enter the story, thank you for all the views. And please join the EarthClan army lead by me, Sandnight, by leaving your OC and a like to my Fan Fictions! Love you guys!

Chapter 2

?Snow Leopard!? A voice called. ?Wake up!?

?Just a few more minutes...? Snow Leopard groaned.

?I said wake up you slow camel!? The voice came again. Snow Leopard?s eyes fluttered open.

?Good morning to you too, Fennec,? Snow Leopard growled.

?It?s still night, no brain, and lower your booming voice,? She hissed. ?Three moons, why am I doing this??

?What?s wrong?? Snow Leopard asked, noticing the tint of urgency in her voice.

?Cypress is what?s wrong!? Fennec growled. ?She?s here to kill me or Sandstone!?

Snow Leopard yawned. ?That?s ridiculous,? he said.

?Read the scroll!? Fennec said pitifully.

Snow Leopard read it over and snorted. ?It says the MudWing was a male,? Snow Leopard said.

?Still!? Fennec cried. ?I could die soon!?

Snow Leopard spread his wings and wrapped them around the SandWing. ?Sh, it?s okay...? He spoke.

?No, it isn?t!? Fennec wailed. ?You don?t know the feeling of your life being on the line!?

?Actually, I do,? Snow Leopard said bitterly. ?Are you sure you want to hear the story??

?Never said I did, but go on,? Fennec murmured and settled in a bit more.

?In the Ice Kingdom, I was just practicing battle training homework from school, minding my own business, when I hear a screeching noise from the palace. I flew upwards towards it and saw a giant shattered hole in the wall,? Snow Leopard recited from his memory.

?Woah,? Fennec snickered. ?So deadly.?

?Just listen,? Snow Leopard said. ?As I was saying, I flew in and saw my sister and brother, Frostedtalon and Shimmer, who were kneeling over Queen Aquilon?s dead body, both of their talons red and bloody. It was horrible, and Shimmer crept towards me, a deadly look in her eyes, and attacked!?

Fennec?s eyes widened a bit and curled around herself.

?She slit my neck right open,? Snow Leopard said, showing the scar. ?But Queen Aquilon?s daughter, Snowflake, came in and dragged her off me. Together we killed them both, but a battle took place when the IceWings saw Aquilon dead. They blamed NightWings and launched an attack. My mother sent me away that day, vowing to explain the miscommunication, so I flew off.?

?That?s horrible. You must really love that Snowflake,? Fennec said.

?I... guess I kind of does. I miss her, and I never even got to thank her,? Snow Leopard said, feeling guilt creep into his body.

?Well, we?ll go to the Ice Kingdom first,? she said. ?It?s closest. I can feel it. And I?ve memorized the maps.?

?It is kind of chilly,? A second voice said. Both dragonets swiveled around and saw a brown dragon behind them. ?What are you two talking about??

?Cypress!? Snow Leopard stammered. ?I... didn?t know you were right there!?

?But of course not,? Cypress growled. ?I?ve been awake this entire time.?

Phoenix woke up and almost knocked Deathchaser out of the tree.

?Hey!? Deathchaser growled.

Cypress growled at both and stalked back to her resting place as the sun rose.

?We should hunt. And then plan for what we do next,? Crawdad offered.

Chimpanzee nodded in agreement.

Cypress gave the two of them one final glare and then flew off with Crawdad and Chimpanzee for a morning hunt.

Chapter 3

"Mmm...pig never tasted so good!" Phoenix said.

"SkyWings eat pig?" Deathchaser snorted and nudged Phoenix's wing.

"Ooh..." Chimpanzee teased under her breath and laughed when Deathchaser shot her a look of anger.

"You know what I think?" Cypress asked. "We should go find the Star Crystal."

"Why?" Fennec asked.

"I think only the Prophecy Dragonets can open it and stop the war!" Cypress said.

"I suppose it is as easy as that," Sandstone said, shrugging.

"We can go right now!" Cypress said eagerly.

"I don't trust this," Snow Leopard said out loud. "The MudWings aren't even in the war. Why would you suggest we go get it?"

"It would stop the war," Sandstone hissed to him.

"Yeah, were you even LISTENING?" Crawdad asked angrily.

"Go without us," Snow Leopard said. "I don't trust it."

"Maybe we three should go to...you know, get along better?" Cypress asked.

"Great idea. We'll take naps in the sun!" Chimpanzee said excitedly.

"Uh, or try killing something," Phoenix said.

"You three go enjoy your time, get to know each other!" Chimpanzee said happily. She laid down and started sunbathing.

"Sure..." Fennec murmured. Fennec flew off after Cypress, so Snow Leopard followed.

Snow Leopard let out frost breath and a small screech when Cypress dodged and did the same to him. The world suddenly went black, and Snow Leopard felt the ground hard.

Snow Leopard woke up with ropes tied around his wings, body, tail, and snout. He saw Fennec next to him, still knocked out.

Cypress walked up to him, a golden crown on, jewels embedded into her scales. Eight other dragons stood behind her, made of stars. The Star Crystal was on the tip of her tail.

"Hello, Snow Leopard," she said. "Just in time for our feast."

"Unf!" Snow Leopard said, struggling.

"Go ahead, my children. Feast his blood," Cypress ordered. The eight dragons slithered forwards and sunk their teeth into his body.

Suddenly, he saw a golden tail whiz right into one of the dragon's necks.

He looked over and saw Fennec slitting the ropes carefully with her tail. She cut her own and escaped and lunged for Cypress's throat.

Cypress sent one of the other dragons to fight for her which Fennec used her tail with.

Fennec was thrown back in a wail of pain, and Snow saw a star embedded in her chest.

"Fennec!" He shouted as blood trickled down her chest.

"Look out...!" She screeched, her voice cracking.

Snow Leopard looked up and saw a murderous minion of Cypress, jaws open wide.

Snow Leopard grabbed Fennec and dragged her into a corner of the cave and covered them up with rocks.

"It's no use..." Fennec whispered.

Snow Leopard nodded and covered up the deep wound. "We can't leave though..."

"Release them immediately!" A voice outside said. Snow Leopard peeked through and saw them.

Chimpanzee, Phoenix, Deathchaser, Sandstone, and Crawdad had come to save them.

Chapter 4

?We demand you release them!?!? Crawdad hissed.

?Hahaha!?!? Cypress cackled. ?Well, okay...?!

?That was easy,?!? Chimpanzee murmured.

?In trade for Sandstone and Phoenix,?!? Cypress hissed.

?Why?!? Sandstone and Phoenix gasped.

?I need to kill Sandstone to be in the Prophecy and need Phoenix for offspring,?!? Cypress explained.

?For my empire.?!?

?Never,?!? Phoenix said.

?They?re dead then, and so are all of you!?!? Cypress screamed.

Snow Leopard burst out of the rocks and frost breathed Cypress who was knocked back and caught off guard.

Cypress growled, stuck. ?ATTACK!?!?

The starry dragons immediately attacked the six dragons.

Phoenix blew fire at one and had a fierce combat battle immediately.

Chimpanzee shot death venom, but it had little effect on the enemy she was facing.

Deathchaser clawed at its neck but it healed almost instantly.

Sandstone was pinned by it and tried scraping its underbelly, but it was no use.

Snow Leopard was hit to the head by the one he was facing, and the dragons that were fighting them dragged them to a wall and pinned them there with rocks.

The dragons left them there and went to Sandstone. They unhinged their jaws and opened wide, menacingly.

They stuck their fangs into him as they did with Snow Leopard.

Sandstone screeched in agony.

Suddenly, Fennec burst out of the rocks with the star dagger. "They're immortal," she said. "We have to destroy the crystal!" She threw the star dagger at the crystal, shattering it.

The starry dragons faded away from Sandstone, but it was too late.

He was dead.

Fennec let out a terrible wail of grief. Her face was twisted in horror and pain, and she buried her snout into his chest.

Cypress smirked. "Now I will be in the prophecy!" She laughed. "Soon all of Pyrrhia will bow before ME, their true queen!"

Suddenly, a huge shadow appeared.

"CYPRESS, STOP!" Crowdad shouted.

"Th-that's not me!" She stuttered.

A huge MudWing entered the cave. He growled at Cypress.

"Carrion, it's my brother, Mahogany," She whispered.

The huge dragon glared her down. While she was distracted, Fennec shoved her tail through Cypress's neck.

Mahogany growled. "The menace is over," He murmured. "Stupid dragonet."

Fennec dropped the dead body over the cliff. "Huh?" She asked.

Mahogany looked at her curiously. "Do you guys need a talon?"

"That'd be great..." Fennec murmured and dropped her gaze to her talons.

Mahogany nudged Sandstone's dead body and looked surprisingly upset.

'He was a great dragon...' He murmured again. 'Saved most dragons from the Moon Moss Disease.'

'I... didn't know that,' Fennec whispered.

Snow Leopard watched their eyes lock.

Silence.

'We should burn his body,' Phoenix said. Each dragon gave him a concerned look.

'Are you crazy!' Chimpanzee spat.

'Don't talk to him that way!' Deathchaser growled in anger, spreading her wings to cover the SkyWing.

Phoenix brushed her wings with his own and put one around her protectively. 'I can fend for myself,' He whispered to her, not in an appropriately hushed tone.

More silence.

'Why would we burn his body?' Fennec asked.

'So, we could put his ashes in a locket for one of us to wear,' Phoenix said.

'I'll wear it,' Fennec burst out. 'I can return it to the SandWings.'

Phoenix, Deathchaser, and Mahogany let outbursts of flame and Fennec winced while watching in shock.

Snow Leopard felt a flash of pity for her.

'We should continue the route to the Ice Kingdom in the morning,' Chimpanzee offered after Mahogany fastened the locket on Fennec's neck.

'Agreed. It's cold though...' Fennec shivered.

'I'll keep you warm,' Mahogany said to Fennec.

?Gross!? Chimpanzee, Crawdad, and Snow Leopard burst out.

?And I thought you liked ?no one?, Death,? Chimpanzee shuddered. ?And you too, Fennec.?

?That was when I was stupid,? Deathchaser snapped and Fennec gave her a menacing glare to shut her snout.

?You still are,? Crawdad snickered.

?And you had fought in the beginning,? Snow Leopard pointed out.

?Shut up...? Deathchaser whispered.

?If we really are a part of the prophecy, then we shouldn't have love until we stop this war over the NightWings and SandWings and the Star Crystals and...? Chimpanzee said.

?You're the dragonets of the prophecy?? Mahogany asked.

?You must be the MudWing!? Phoenix said suddenly.

?MudWings aren't in the war,? Mahogany pointed out.

?Let's just sleep...? Chimpanzee said, laying down. She squirmed in close next to Snow Leopard and Crawdad.

The four others curled in close.

Snow Leopard sighed. He hadn't felt this warm since Snowflake.

Chapter 5

?Wake up, Snow Leopard,? A warm voice said.

Snow Leopard woke up and looked at the most beautiful face he had ever seen.

?Snowflake?? He whispered, love, filling his heart.

?It?s graduation day at school, come on!?! Snowflake said, voice smooth as honey.

Snowflake took his talon and pulled him out of his room.

?How did you get inside?? Snow Leopard asked. ?Where are the others??

Snowflake didn?t answer.

That clarified it.

This was a dream.

A taunting, horrible nightmare type of dream.

Snowflake suddenly turned into black dust. So did the others, and he saw a swift brown shape on the edge of the ice.

?I?m still here...? It hissed and flew off.

Chapter 6

?WAZZA!? Snow Leopard shouted and shot up. The sunlight filtered through the cave.

?What's wrong?? Fennec asked. She was sharing food with everyone else.

?Bad dream?? Phoenix asked.

?Yeah...? Snow Leopard said. ?I think...Cypress...?

?Oh, you had a Cypress Haunting Thing,? Deathchaser said sarcastically.

Snow Leopard shot her a glare. ?Just forget it,? He murmured.

Fennec picked at her food. ?Just so you know, Mahogany and Crawdad left for more food and to look around the area so we can get to the Ice Kingdom,? She whispered.

?Did you have a bad dream too?? Snow Leopard asked.

Fennec nodded sadly. ?It was so teasing...it was taunting me about Sandstone and Cholla and my other siblings and then they all turned to a black dust,? she said. ?I think I saw a MudWing in the back who nodded and flew off.?

Phoenix picked at his claws. ?I guess we're all confessing,? he said. ?I had a dream about my little sister, Wren, and she turned to black dust...there was a MudWing there.?

Deathchaser looked very uncomfortable. ?Um...? She whispered. ?I didn't have a bad dream like that.?

Mahogany and Crawdad came back.

?We cleared a path,? Crawdad said.

?But we should go. We saw a few guards looking for us and they had Cypress in a stretcher. They know we're here,? Mahogany reported.

?And we have to cross the ocean,? Chimpanzee said.

?We could build a raft,? Deathchaser offered.

?Good idea,? They all agreed.

Snow Leopard went with Fennec and Chimpanzee to get some wood.

?I?ll get wood,? Fennec said.

?I?ll get vines,? Chimpanzee said.

?I?ll get some leaves,? Snow Leopard said.

He got busy getting the large leaves and then met them back at the cave.

Everyone started putting the raft together.

?Let?s go,? Mahogany said. He picked up the finished raft and flew out of the cave. ?And stay hidden.?

Mahogany made the smaller dragons, like Crawdad and Fennec, get onto the raft underneath him.

Soon, they reached the ocean. Mahogany dropped the raft, and only Fennec, Crawdad, Phoenix, and Mahogany could fit.

?I have an idea,? Fennec said. She instructed Mahogany to lift his huge wings, and for Phoenix to do the same. Fennec crawled under the small area and told Deathchaser and Crawdad to follow her.

Snow Leopard and Chimpanzee crawled on, and the three started moving to more comfy positions.

Snow Leopard readied his frost breath and shot it backward.

They immediately headed towards the Ice Kingdom.

Everyone began to get tired from rowing and getting to the Ice Kingdom, so they all agreed to sleep.

--

?We?re here...? He yawned.

Fennec jumped onto the shore and strangely burrowed.

?It isn?t cold?? Chimpanzee asked.

?No,? Mahogany said. ?We?re at the Sand Kingdom.?

Chapter 7

“What!” Everyone screamed.

“Three moons...” Deathchaser said angrily.

“I’m home!” Fennec cried in excitement, jumping around. “I can take you guys to meet my mom and dad and siblings and kingdom!”

“Won’t it look a little suspicious?” Snow Leopard asked cautiously.

“No, I’ll tell them you’re my friends,” Fennec said. “Let’s go...!”

Everyone started following Fennec, who lifted off and flew over to a cactus and gathered the fruit off it.

She gave one to everyone.

“Gnaw until you get to the flesh of the fruit,” she said.

Everyone happily ate, even if it was a bit weird tasting.

Phoenix caught a few fast rabbits, and Fennec brought down a hawk.

Then she professionally dug up an area where they could smell water so they could have a drink.

“Where to next?” Chimpanzee asked after her meal.

“I don’t know, actually...” Fennec said. “This place doesn’t look too familiar. Oh, Sandstone has been everywhere in the Sand Kingdom...”

Everyone sat down angrily.

It was dawn, and they still didn’t figure anything out.

Then it hit him.

?Wait! Sandstone! The pendant! Snow Leopard shouted. ?Drop it!?

Confused, Fennec dropped it.

The pendant started floating away.

?Follow it!? Chimpanzee shouted.

They flew towards it.

?Let me go in first,? Fennec warned when they made it.

Fennec stepped in and flew around, and then came back in, face confused and upset.

?What?s wrong?? Snow Leopard asked.

?It?s the Sand Kingdom,? She whispered. ?It?s been destroyed.?

Introduction

Shocking reveals. Scared love. Heartbreaking truths. Death chasing the young dragonets wherever they go.

Chapter 1

Deathchase sniffed the air, waiting for any sign of life.

She was on guard tonight.

And the day before.

OKAY, she was on guard every night by choice.

But she wanted to protect her...

Um, Deathchaser thought. They aren't really my friends.

'Trust no one,' Starsignal's voice rang in her head. 'No tribe is good to us.'

'No time for love,' Acapella had hissed to her.

'Stay away from others!' Banshee's raspy voice had instructed her.

Karma's voice stood out, 'Kill them while they sleep.'

Visiontalons had said, 'Poison their prey, take the victory.'

But Deathchaser had to remember what her sister, Prophecykeeper, had told her.

'Don't mess with prophecies,' She had whispered to her. 'It only brought misfortune and bad luck to Victory and Zodiacwarrior.'

Deathchaser missed her friends, Acapella, Karma, and Starsignal.

And her caretakers, Banshee, and Visiontalons.

And OF COURSE, she missed Prophecykeeper.

Most NightWings lived with their tribe. Sure, the females she lived with did, but the tribe started to fall apart.

There were five groups of females, five groups of males, and three groups of both.

One of which was a group for breeding.

Then the queen, royalty, and guards had groups.

And lastly, the rest of the tribe was random.

Deathchaser had been born in a different group of females. They didn't know who her parents were, and she was weak, so they threw her out.

Luckily, Prophecykeeper (Who was Prophecy at the time) found her.

Deathchaser (Death at the time) was grateful for Prophecykeeper's protection. They soon found out they had the same mother.

Deathchaser was given to the group of a mother (Visiontalons), elder (Banshee), three young children (Acapella, Karma, and herself), and two caretakers who would hunt and fight (Starsignal and Prophecykeeper).

Starsignal had a gift to read the stars, so she was very special. And Prophecykeeper could interpret a prophecy in three heartbeats.

Deathchaser was given her name because she followed trouble wherever it went.

Acapella and Karma were going to be given their names right when Deathchaser left, so she was upset that she wasn't there to see her friends grow up.

Banshee was never given her name because her destiny was to keep that name and end up being the 'banshee' one day and protect her tribe.

There were already four haunting banshees in her tribe, she didn't feel they needed any more.

But Deathchaser grew up best as she could. She helped make their den by the mountains, their new home, which was concealed yet again.

Deathchaser grew up with dragonets her age that liked what she liked.

She took care of them.

She helped them.

They were her family.

But the war separated them. Many dragons wanted their home. And a greedy MudWing who was the nameless wanted rule of all dragons.

Soon Deathchaser found out that was Cypress and met her first-taloned.

And now Deathchaser was in for revenge for hurting Chimpanzee and tearing her away from her family.

Not for these stupid dragons, she was guarding...

Phoenix loved Chimpanzee anyway. Acapella was right. No time for love.

And sure, being a hero would be nice...

But she just wanted to be home.

She hated the other tribes. It was their fault.

They left the NightWings with the horrible territory and let them suffer.

And just a little bit of revenge with a fake prophecy didn't hurt... okay, it killed a lot of dragons. But still! Queen Battlewinner was dead.

And now some dragons wanted all, ?good for nothing? NightWings dead!

The sun rose from the tips of the Rainforest trees.

It was the day she was finally going to kill Cypress.

Chapter 2

Fennec stretched. "Good morning, everyone," she said happily.

"Today's the day," Mahogany snarled.

"I want to kill her," Deathchaser blurted out. "Break her neck with my own claws. Smash her skull into rocks, making her suffer."

Mahogany looked shocked. "She's a traitor, but she's still my sister," he said. "We should kill her cleanly."

Fennec nodded.

"After all she's done!?" Deathchaser cried. "You want to honor her with a kind, clean death!?"

Snow Leopard nodded. "Not honor her, but I don't want blood on our claws. We don't want MudWings to be mad at us."

"Traitors!?" Deathchaser snarled. "You don't know what she did to me and my family!?"

They looked confused.

"She made my sister kill my family!?" Fennec growled.

"And she made my siblings kill my love's mother!?" Snow Leopard snapped.

"Controlled Chimpanzee!?" Phoenix screeched. "And my sister!?"

"Sh-she tried to make SeaWings suffer," Crawdad whispered. "I was a part of the Great Drought."

Mahogany snorted. "She is my SISTER!?"

"Well, she ripped me from my family and killed my tribe slowly!?" Deathchaser snapped. "And all of this is more to make her death horrible!?"

"No," Phoenix said. "And that is final."

Deathchaser shook. She could feel her eyes darken.

She knew what she was about to do would be horrible.

But she was hungry, thirsty, tired, heartbroken, and depressed.

She smiled, opened her bloodshot eyes, and leaped at Phoenix.

He screeched in shock.

Deathchaser grabbed his neck and threw him to the ground.

"GUYS STOP!?" Fennec cried, tears running down her cheeks.

Snow Leopard tried to throw himself in between them, but Deathchaser clawed his scales. Blue blood trickled down his neck.

Deathchaser pinned Phoenix down, despite all the protests.

She knew what she was about to do.

And if it weren't for Crowdad knocking her out, Phoenix would have been dead.

Chapter 3

Deathchaser lifted her head.

"H-huh?" She whispered. "Where am I?"

"Good morning princess," Snow Leopard growled.

"You ready for the big fight guys?" She could hear Phoenix whispering to everyone.

"WHY DID YOU DO THAT!?" Snow Leopard suddenly shouted.

"I'm sorry!" Deathchaser cried. "I was hungry and thirsty and tired, and you guys broke my heart!"

Snow Leopard growled. "If it weren't for the prophecy Cawdad said he would have killed you."

"I'd like to see him try," Deathchaser snapped.

Cawdad stepped up. "We've decided to leave now, guys," He said.

"First, I think Deathchaser should apologize," Snow Leopard snarled.

"Whatever," She murmured. She approached the other dragons.

"Well?" Mahogany said, his tail curled around Fennec.

"I'm sorry..." Deathchaser whispered. "Can we go now?"

"It's better than nothing," Phoenix said. "Let's get the stars out of here."

Deathchaser let them fly off.

Am I doing the right thing? She thought. Then she thought better of it.

"No matter what they say, I will kill Cypress with blood on my claws," Deathchaser whispered.

She took off after them.

She was called Deathchaser for a reason.

She chased death, no matter the cost.

She lived for the risk.

And she would die to protect loved ones.

Chapter 4

Deathchaser stalked through the rainforest.

No matter how much she begged, they wouldn't help her hunt because of almost killing Phoenix.

She had to do everything on her own.

Deathchaser spotted a tiger and leaped and killed it with ease.

She ate its filling meat.

She went to the pool and drank the cold water.

Then she heard a horrible screeching sound.

"Stop! Stop! Leave us alone!" A horrible cry sounded.

Deathchaser noticed it sounded young.

She lifted off and landed where she heard the crying and peered through the thick canopy.

She could make out three young NightWing dragons, two looked like dragonets.

Without a second glance, Deathchaser recognized them.

"No-!" She shrieked.

A MudWing had one of them pinned, her claws piercing her throat.

"Where is she! The NightWing!" The MudWing, who was undoubtedly Cypress, growled.

"I'm right here!" Deathchaser hissed, flying down. "Let them go!"

The dragon who was pinned looked at her. "Deathchaser-!" She choked.

"Prophecykeeper!" She cried. She swiveled around. "Acapella! Karma! Get out of here!"

"It's Acapellasong and Karmabringer now!" The NightWing with the scars under her eyes, who

?Good luck! Come home soon...? Karmabringer whispered.

She and Acapellasong lifted off and flew away.

Deathchaser leaped at Cypress.

?Hurt me and she?s dead!? Cypress shouted.

Prophecykeeper was already going to die. Even if Cypress released her, she wouldn?t recover from her wounds.

?Tell Acapellasong, Karmabringer, Banshee, Visiontalons, and the triplets goodbye...?
Prophecykeeper whimpered.

?The triplets-? Deathchaser whispered, confused. But she knew it was best not to question it.
?Goodbye, sister. Banshee will wail as she meets your spirit.?

?Good luck-? Prophecykeeper whispered hoarsely, right before Cypress snapped her neck.

?NO!?! Deathchaser cried, even though she knew it would happen.

She stepped forwards.

This was her chance.

She ducked her head.

She let the monster she had been born with go.

She spread her wings so the stars would shine in them.

She flattened her horns and bared her fangs.

When she looked up, she could feel herself changing.

She stared Cypress dead in the eye.

Instead, Cypress stood straight in a non-threatening pose.

?Come kill me.?

Deathchaser stood surprised.

What!

Chapter 5

Deathchaser inspected Cypress closely. She was scared.

"Kill me, please," Cypress begged. "My mother will let go of my soul, I and the others will be free."

"Don't kill her!" A gravely SandWing said.

Gravel and the others appeared, flying down.

Fennec and Snow Leopard and the others also came.

"Don't kill our master!" Crawdad growled.

"Daughter, isn't it brilliant to be loved?" Fennec said sweetly.

It was revolting.

"You shouldn't have trusted Mahogany, Cypress daughter," Chimpanzee whispered.

Cypress looked younger, weaker, more scared.

"Leave us alone!" Cypress cried.

Deathchaser stared at Cypress. "You sure you want death?"

"Please-!" Cypress cried.

"Of course," Deathchaser murmured.

She stepped forwards, but the second she did, whoever was controlling Cypress got ahold of her again.

"STAY AWAY FROM MY DAUGHTER!" She hissed.

"STAY AWAY FROM INNOCENT DRAGONS!" Deathchaser cried and leaped onto Cypress.

She bit her neck and snapped it.

?Wait...? Deathchaser whispered.

They cackled and closed a circle around her.

?NO!?! Deathchaser called out.

Their laughs were the last things she heard.

Chapter 6

I am going to make a trilogy. Just so you guys aren't left wondering what Deathchaser became...

ANYWAY.

I hope you enjoyed it, please leave OCs in the comments BECAUSE the trilogy needs at least three OCs.

Have a good day, and please go check out Alexander Greene, Copycat of Freddy Fazbear's, and MarshmallowKat.

Good day dragons of every tribe.:3
