

Stupidest Things I've Ever Done

from Lizzie online:

<https://www.allthetests.com/fan-fiction/my-life/quiz39/16401134>

powered by www.allthetests.com

Introduction

This is a list of the stupidest things I've ever done throughout my life.

Chapter 1

I once pushed a door that specifically said "Pull"

I said "Jesus Christ" in front of my very religious grandparents. Over FaceTime. While talking to my dad's whole family. With my dad. (I was on a sugar high, and it was on New Year's?) One time, I accidentally threw a ball over the fence, and I and my cousin had to go through the nettles to retrieve it, so we both got stung, my cousin more than me, then I stupidly splashed my cousin with water from my granny's pool, while I was passing a ball to her, and we were sitting at the pool's edge.

I wore flip-flops on a walk in the woods with my cousins.

I said to my friend "Can we now be flop fish?" for no reason, I think I was meant to say friends, we were just after fighting, and my other friend, who heard me say it said, "Seriously?"

I got freaked out over a rescue helicopter that I thought was a UFO when I was ten. Help me.

I was at a sleepover at my friend's house, and I went into the bathroom, and I brought my bag with me. My friend didn't know I was menstruating, and I wanted to bring the bag with my "girl supplies" with me, but I didn't want to bring it in and out from the bathroom in front of my friend, so I tried to make out I was stupid to do it, but overall the whole issue I felt stupid even doing it.

I got scared of my friend's dog and ran a whole mile out of her house to my granny's, where I was staying, and screamed in front of the whole village as I ran.

I farted in front of my friend and immediately blamed her for it. In class.

Well, that's it. I hope you enjoyed my "Stupidest Things I've Ever Done."